

FALL 2020 HORTICULTURE SEMINAR SERIES

HORT 507/607

MONDAYS
12:00-1:00 PM
ZOOM

SEPT 28 – The Garden(er) Microbiome Project

Gwynne Mhuireach, Institute for Health in the Built Environment, University of Oregon

OCT 5 – Plant community assembly in urban areas

Meghan Avolio, John Hopkins University

OCT 12 – Squash Bees: Origin, diversification, and ecological interactions

Margarita Lopez-Uribe, Penn State

OCT 19 – Black Futures Farm

Malcolm Shabazz Hoover, Black Futures Farm

OCT 26 – An overview of the book: Trapping of small organisms moving randomly

Christopher Adams, OSU Department of Horticulture

NOV 2 – Taking Care of Business – Transitioning into your Career

Erica Miller, Stoller Wine Group

NOV 9 – Investigation of new crops for Alabama and the Southeast US Industrial Hemp, Miscanthus, Tumeric, Basil, and beyond

Ernst Cebert, Xianyan Kuang and R. Srinivasa Mentreddy, Alabama A&M

NOV 16 – Crops domestication and the evolutionary ecology of species interactions

Yolanda Chen, University of Vermont

NOV 23 – RNA interference in pest management

June-Sun Yoon, OSU Department of Horticulture

NOV 30 – Adjusting Standard ANOVA Methods to Account for Heterogeneous Variances with an Application to Turfgrass Management

Michael Dumelle, OSU Department of Horticulture

DEC 7 – Grapevine Red Blotch Virus Alters Leaf Carbon Metabolism and Export in Vitis vinifera

Cody Copp, OSU Department of Horticulture

Information about the course is available by contacting the Seminar Coordinator, Andony Melathopoulos.at:

andony.melathopoulos@oregonstate.edu